Addenda as of Mar. 1st, 2024

Operation Roundup

The Rules:

Rule 3.1.2 (correction): The rule states the UK has eight non-divisional units. It should say nine.

Section 11.10 (discrepancy): Rule states units defending in a port city get two left column shifts, the TEC says they get one left column shift. The rule is correct.

The Counters:

The German 179R Panzer Division should be marked "2S" rather than "25".

The four German units that setup at start (see Section 13.2) have slightly misprinted hex numbers on them. They should be placed instead as follows:

- 18L INF Division in hex 1205 (Dunkirk)
- 156R INF Division in hex 1617 (Calais)
- 182R INF Division in hex 2203 (Cassel)
- 191R INF Division in 2623 (Boulogne)

The Magazine:

Pg. 22, 2nd para, last sentence (correction): Mention is made that the 1941 Thanksgiving dinner was served out between the maneuvers. However, that sentence should have come near the end of the last paragraph, right column, on pg. 23 (after the sentence about the Red Team being forced out of Monroe), as the Thanksgiving Dinner was served during the Second Carolina Maneuvers. Readers will see that the date for the Thanksgiving holiday is correct, and that was not when the Louisiana Maneuvers were held.

A Cornered Wolf

The Rules:

3.3 Stacking (correction). The Spetsnaz (commando) and Desant (combat engineer) units are independent formations, and these units can be considered part of any Soviet formation.

The Counters:

Skorzeny's counter is misspelled "Skorezny"
